My dear Commander Kaufman:

It is with deep appreciation of the services rendered by those of Jewish faith to the development, progress and protection of our nation that I join with you in the 47th Annual National Memorial Services held by the Jewish War Veterans of the United States in honor of veterans of Jewish faith who are serving in this war and who have served in other wars in which our country has taken part.

We of the United States believe in and cherish our freedoms and it is right that we should pay homage to those citizens, of whatever faith and creed, who seek to protect them. Death comes to these patriots in the performance of their duty, and while there is a sadness in the hearts of those whose dear ones have given up their lives for their country, there is the gratitude of a nation for services well done.

You may rejoice that those whom you honor have kept the traditions of loyalty and courage of the Jewish people.

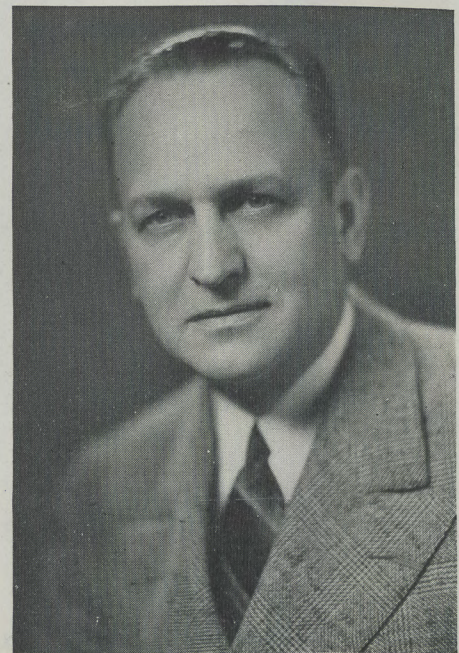

Very sincerely yours,

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

National Commander Benjamin Kaufman, Jewish War Veterans of the United States, 276 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York.
