Letters to the Editor

Not only Paul Revere

In the article, "Chatham Square," (July/August, p. 20), Myer Myers is described as simply a patriot. He was also, to the best of my knowledge, one of the finest silversmiths of that time on these shores. He and Paul Revere, I believe, are considered the best silversmiths of that period, and examples of his work have been displayed in the Museum of the City of New York and the New York Historical Society.

A Letter to Parents

The following letter was published in the Evening Sun. The vandalism was not an act of anti-semitism because the non-Jewish cemeteries had much more damage than the Jewish War Veterans Cemetery.

To the parents of the children in Rosedale and to all other parents who live close to cemeteries:

I am sure that you were taught to respect the dead, the same as I. I have taught my children this and (now they have just passed their teens) they learned to respect not only the dead but their elders and the American flag as well.

The willful destruction of tombstones is a far cry from healthy amusement. Your children who have been running amuck through so many cemeteries in recent weeks, knocking down headstones also went into a Veterans Cemetery, where all the graves were decorated with the American flag. Not only did they throw down headstones, they took the American flag and drove the flag side into the earth.

What has come to our country when children or young adults have so little regard for what America stands for? America was founded by people who were treated unjustly in their original countries. It was founded so that all might be free of religious and color creeds and so they could worship as they please—with freedom and justice for all.

Once again, parents, it is time to teach youth the meaning of respect.
