SUPPORT FOR AMERICA

We would like to greet you as the new National Commander and wish you all the best.

I want to indicate our true condolence and great sorrow and shock for the assault on New York and Washington. I am still unable to believe it really happened. We wish you from the bottom of our heart to overcome those terrible days and to find the mass murderers. Probably now the US Government will understand that we have the same enemy to fight with - the Islamic terror.

We wish you a much happier New Year.

Dr. Shoshana Stiffel
Head of Publication Dept.
State of Israel, Ministry of Defense

We in the British Association of Jewish Ex-Servicemen and Women send you as the National Commander of the Jewish War Veterans of America, our sincerest condolences on the fearful events in your country. We are sharing your grief and stand one hundred percent with you.

Edmund Lde Rothschild CBE TD
National President

Jack Lewis
National Chairman

On behalf of Jewish War Veterans of Polish Armies in Israel I would like to express our deepest sorrow and grief, and our solidarity with the United States People on the days of the National Mourning.

Let us pray together on our Rosh Hashana and Yom Kipur Holy Days for peace and love among people in the spirit of our Prophets, and for security and prosperity of the State of Israel.

Yours,
Benjamin Meirtchak, Lt. Col., Chairman

It is with great shock and sadness that we have heard of the terrible terror attack on the United States of America.

We wish to extend our heartfelt condolences to the families of those killed and injured and to the entire America nation, and voice our support for you in this difficult hour.

Unfortunately, we can empathize with the horror and sadness you must be feeling, as we here in Israel have had ample cause to experience these feelings following the recent spate of terrorist violence throughout our country on the part of Palestinian terrorists.

As you well know, we in Israel wish to assist in any way possible, as we feel a strong kinship and alliance with the United States.

Despite the pain and grief following these tragic events, we hope that the free and democratic countries of the world will find a way to strengthen their stance against terrorism everywhere, and make our countries a better place to live without fear.

Dr. Joseph Shevel, President
Galilee College, Tivon

Our dear friends, sisters and brothers in the Jewish War Veterans of the United States of America, we stand by you.

It is with great shock and sadness that we have learned of the terrible terror attack on New York and Washington, D.C.

We can empathize with the horror and agony you are going through, as we here in Israel have been experiencing these feelings all last year long following the Palestinians terrorist violence throughout our country.

As comrades in arms, we wish that the civilized community in the world led by the United States launch a war against terrorism anywhere, in order to bring to a better world.

Despite the pain and the grief, we hope and believe that the free and democratic way of life will eventually prevail and make our country a better place to live.

Together, we shall overcome.

God blesses you and a Happy New Year.

Dr. Baruch Levy
Chair, Foreign Relations
Gen. Moshe Nativ, Chairman
I.D.F. Veterans of War Association

Like the majority of people in this world we were shocked and horrified at the cowardly attack on the United States of America. On behalf of all Jewish Ex-Service Associations in Australia we extend our deepest sympathy to the people of your country and would appreciate it if you would pass these sentiments on to your President, Mr. George W. Bush. At the same time please assure him and the American people, not only of our deep sympathy following this shocking tragedy but also, like our government, our full support of the actions he is contemplating.
